1. Your role

You are part of the Call Centre team. Your job is to contact assigned customers, confirm the information, keep the lead updated, and arrange an inspection when the customer is ready.

You do not need to decide the final purchase price or mark a car as bought. That work belongs to the Purchaser after the inspection.

You do	You do not do
Call or message assigned customers.	Reassign leads to another staff member.
Save a clear follow-up note after contact.	Change the purchase price unless the workflow asks for it at Deal.
Move the lead through your allowed statuses.	Mark a lead as Deal or Not Purchased as the final buyer decision.
Schedule the inspection when the customer agrees.	Give a lead to a Purchaser before an inspection is scheduled.

2. How leads reach you

New verified valuation requests are assigned automatically to active Call Centre accounts. The system takes turns in order.

- With two active agents, Lead 1 goes to Agent 1, Lead 2 goes to Agent 2, then the turn starts again.
- The assignment is based on active staff accounts, not on who is online.
- If you are assigned a lead, it appears in your Leads page. Other agents do not see that lead in their working list.
- Incomplete forms use a separate Call Centre recovery queue. They are people who started the form but did not finish it.

What happens next

Your part is the Call Centre step. You contact the customer and schedule the inspection. After that, the system assigns the lead to the next active Purchaser.

3. Your daily lead workflow

Use this order for every assigned lead.

1. Open the lead and check the customer's name, phone number, car details, emirate, and current status.
2. Contact the customer using WhatsApp or the call button on the record.
3. Write what happened in the Follow-up Note box. Include the result and the next step.
4. Choose the status that matches the real situation, then press Save changes.
5. If the customer agrees to a viewing, choose Inspection Scheduled and enter the date and time before saving.
6. After the inspection is scheduled, check that the Purchaser assignment appears. Your follow-up part is complete, but the history remains visible to the team.

Good note example

Good: “Called the customer. Confirmed the 2026 Range Rover Sport has 35,000 km. Customer agreed to inspection on 12 September at 10:00 AM in Abu Dhabi.”

Not useful: “Called.”

4. Lead statuses you can use

Choose the status that tells the truth about the conversation. The Call Centre role can use these four statuses:

Status	Use it when
New	The verified request has just arrived and needs first contact.
Pending	The record is being worked on, but the customer has not been contacted yet.
Contacted	You have reached the customer by call or WhatsApp.
Inspection Scheduled	The customer agreed to a viewing and the date and time are saved.

Important: Do not choose Inspection Scheduled without a real date and time. Do not use Deal just because the customer sounded interested. Deal means the car was actually bought, and that is handled after inspection by the Purchaser.

5. Incomplete forms

An incomplete form is not yet a verified lead. It means the person started the valuation form but left before finishing verification or submission. It is still worth following up.

1. Open the Incomplete Forms page and open the assigned record.
2. Contact the person and confirm the missing details instead of guessing.
3. Add a useful note about the conversation.
4. If the customer is ready and the required vehicle details are complete, choose the inspection date and time and use Convert to Lead and Schedule Inspection.
5. The system creates one real lead and assigns the next active Purchaser because the inspection is now scheduled.

Do not force conversion: If the information cannot be confirmed, leave it as an incomplete-form follow-up. Do not convert it just to increase the lead count.

6. Notes and Activity

The Follow-up Note is the current message for the next person. Every time you save a new note, the system keeps the saved version in the record history.

Where	What you will see
Follow-up Note	The latest working note. Edit this when there is a new customer update.
Activity	Short history such as lead submission, status changes, staff views, assignments, and saved note actions.
Notes History	The full saved note text, including who wrote it and the date and time.
See full details	The complete scrollable activity or note history when there are older entries.

Write notes as if another staff member will read them tomorrow. Keep them factual, short, and useful. Do not write unnecessary personal comments.

7. Inspection handoff

Inspection Scheduled is the handoff point between Call Centre and Purchaser.

1. Confirm the customer agreed to the inspection.
2. Enter the correct date and time.
3. Check the inspection emirate and vehicle details.
4. Save the status and note.
5. Check the Assigned Team section for the Purchaser name.

After this handoff, the Purchaser can see the lead and continue with Inspected or Under Negotiation. If the customer changes the appointment, update the note and the scheduled details so the next person sees the latest information.

Example: The customer agrees to an inspection on 12 September at 10:00 AM in Abu Dhabi. Save Inspection Scheduled with that date and time. The system assigns a Purchaser automatically.

8. What you can and cannot see

Your account shows the information needed for Call Centre work.

You can	You cannot
See your assigned leads and customer contact details.	See every lead belonging to other Call Centre agents.
See and work on Incomplete Forms.	Reassign a lead.
See your commission page.	Open Settings, Staff Accounts, Vehicle Catalog, or Super Admin controls.
See blocked numbers when needed for follow-up safety.	Decide the final purchase outcome after inspection.

If a lead is missing, ask the Super Admin to check the assignment. Do not create a duplicate lead just because it is not visible in your list.

9. Common situations

The customer does not answer

Keep the lead in the correct early status, try the approved contact method again according to your business practice, and write a note with the attempt. Do not mark the car as bought.

The customer gives new car details

Update the record with the confirmed information and save a note explaining what changed.

The customer wants to inspect the car

Choose Inspection Scheduled, enter the appointment details, and save. Check the Purchaser assignment after saving.

The lead is assigned to the wrong person

Do not change the owner yourself. Tell the Super Admin, who can reassign it with a documented reason.

The customer asks not to be contacted

Record the request clearly and tell the Super Admin if the number needs a block or another approved privacy action. Do not make that decision casually.

10. Daily checklist

Before finishing your workday, check:

- Every assigned New or Pending lead has a contact attempt or a clear next step.
- Every Contacted lead has a useful note.
- Inspection Scheduled leads have a date, time, and customer location.
- Incomplete Forms have been reviewed and followed up where appropriate.
- You pressed Save changes after editing a status or note.
- You did not use Deal or Not Purchased as a Call Centre shortcut.

Simple rule: If another person opened the record tomorrow, would they understand what happened and what to do next? If not, improve the note before saving.

11. Quick glossary

Word	Simple meaning
Verified lead	A customer who completed verification and submitted the valuation form.
Incomplete form	A person who started the form but did not finish it.
Round-robin	The system shares new work by taking turns between active staff.
Contacted	You reached the customer by phone or WhatsApp.
Inspection Scheduled	A viewing date and time were agreed and saved.
Purchaser	The person who handles the inspection and purchase decision.
Deal	The business actually bought the car. This is not a Call Centre decision.
Activity	Short dated history of actions on the record.
Notes History	Full saved versions of notes with author and date/time.

Keep the customer information accurate, keep the note useful, and always save the next step.
